Mission: To study and research on the scientific and logical aspects of Jain principles and practices and project it Globally with the goal of making Jainism a universal religion.

What is JAS? JAS is a global organization of Jain Scholars and scientists engaged in Exploring Scientific Research of Jain Principles and Practices and exchanging ideas. It has over 100 renowned scholars all over the world as fellows and several young enthusiasts who want to learn about Jainism and its merits. All sects of Jains and non-Jains are associated with it. Over the past decade, several Fellows of the Academy have carried out study and research, authored many books on Jain concepts based on recent advances in physics, molecular biology, neurology, genetics etc. in simple language, connecting them to school curriculum.

Why JAS? In the newly emerging Hi-tech world order and for our future generations, it is important and necessary that we promote Jain principles and practices scientifically and logically and connect them to modern scientific researches. Some researches on concepts which are already documented in Jain scriptures have been given Nobel Prizes such as long fasting (autophagy), Circadian rhythm (chowhihar), Bosons (nature of paramanus).
